KUHIO CABLES ON BUILDING BILL

WASHINGTON, APRIL 30.
GOVERNOR MOTT-SMITH, HONOLULU.
PUBLIC BUILDING BILL WILL AUTHORIZE HONOLULU BUILDING; ULTIMATE COST $850,000.
KALANIANA'OLE.

This cablegram from Delegate Kuhio indicates that Congress has decided on a public building bill for this session and, as it has been pretty well programmed, it will undoubtedly be put through in short order. The allotment for this city is sufficient.

"I have seen no plans for the Federal building on the Malaka site," said Judge DeLo this afternoon. "If any have been made of the new building, they have not come into my hands."
"However, I have talked the matter over with several people, but have emphasized more especially the size of the rooms in the building. The court rooms will, of course, be of considerable size, and this has been the only matter that I have been paying any particular attention to concerning the Federal building."

Haan Will Ask For Engineer Company To Survey Island

Major Haan is going to ask the War Department to send a company of engineers here to survey and gather information which will be of value in planning the local defenses. The Major has been busy during the past couple of weeks looking over the island and getting general information on the subject, the main object of his visit being to consider the opportunities for defenses of Honolulu and the proposed navy yard at Pearl Harbor.

"I have been all over the island," said the Major this morning. "I have gone over the coast line and have also gone over a great part of the interior, partly on horseback and also on trails which could only be negotiated on foot. Of course, the batteries here will protect the city from an attack by sea, but my principal object is to plan land defenses, which will protect these batteries, as well as the navy yard which is to be built at Pearl Harbor, from attacks from the rear."

"The greatest difficulty which I have encountered so far has been the inaccuracy of the maps. I find that these are accurate only as far as the plantation lands are concerned and the plateau between the two mountain ranges down to Waialua. On the other hand the maps of the mountains are very inaccurate. At one place in the Kahuku district the map shows a range where in fact there is a deep ravine. It is also very difficult to get information as to how far the mountain range is passable or not. Of course, I know that south

REPORT AROUSES LIQUOR DEALERS

Plan To Hold Licenses Up Until Fleet's Departure

A great bunch of applications for renewals of liquor licenses was filed with the Treasurer yesterday and today. The liquor men came in swarms with their documents, the majority of the present holders getting their applications on file. And it was all started by a report to the effect that a move was on foot to make the city a "dry town" during the stay of the Fleet here by getting the granting of the renewals deferred until the Fleet had left.

The report had it that Thwing, who is now getting the credit for all kinds of things, and some of his confederates, had persuaded the Liquor Commissioners to help them play the game to dry up the town. The plan was said to be simply to have the Commission postpone its hearings on the applications until within less than a month before the date of the departure of the Fleet. As it takes a month of public advertising before a license can be granted, this plan would prevent the granting of any licenses for the time being.

The report circulated among the

Hawaii Goes To Sea

The yacht Hawaii left port this afternoon, for her first sail, without warning to anybody outside the initiated circle. In fact, the whole matter was strictly on the Q. T. It was supposed, from statements of members of the committee, that the first time she would sail and put out to sea would be Saturday, for which date, taken formally as her first sail, invitations to the press have been issued, and public announcements made.

When the yacht spread her big wings early this afternoon and put to sea, she walked along nicely, in spite of a light wind. The sea was smooth and conditions favorable.

MUST PAY SEWER RATES

The Campbell Estate Loses In Supreme Court Appeal

A decision was handed down from the Supreme Court this morning which makes an agreement with the Superintendent of Public Works to pay sewerage rates annually for the use of the sewer enforceable. The case in question was that of the Territory of Hawaii, by C. S. Holloway, Superintendent of Public Works, vs. the Campbell Estate.

CAMPBELL SAYS PLEIN

The report was general this morning that there was no money in the Territorial treasury on account of the fact that so many warrants were cashed at one of the banks. Treasurer Campbell denies this, however, stating that he has plenty of money on hand. "Some people always cash their warrants at the banks," he said over the phone. "We have plenty of money here and are financially able to pay all the warrants. We have had a line of people here all morning whose warrants we have been cashing."

Mr. Campbell stated later that he had asked the banks to hold their warrants for a day or two, and not present them for payment as his coin is a little low. The Treasury is paying all warrants presented at the window.

GUTTER ORDINANCE WILL BE ENFORCED

Supt. Of Public Works Told To Act By Hemenway

Marston Campbell, Superintendent of Public Works, has received instructions from the Attorney General to take the necessary steps for the prosecution of all persons owning or keeping buildings in Honolulu having awnings which do not carry gutters in accordance with the provisions of the statutes.

Following out the instructions he has received, the Superintendent of Public Works has written a letter to the Board of Supervisors to the effect that he has instructed the Building Inspector to furnish him with a list of the buildings which are unprovided with gutters. He also requests that body to instruct the County Attorney to prepare a warrant upon his complaint, in order that the matter may be taken up in court.

The following is the letter received from the Attorney General:

Honolulu, T. H., Apr. 28, 1908.
Honorable Marston Campbell, Superintendent of Public Works, Honolulu.

Dear Sir:—The Supervisors of the County of Oahu have asked me to

LIBRARY FLOOR TO BE REPAIRED

Tons Of Law Books Might Crash On Room Below

Fear has been expressed in the past that the floor of the Library room in the Judiciary building should suddenly give way and allow the many tons of books to crash down on the heads of the employees of the Department of Education in the room just below, but the sag in the floor has become so apparent of late and the danger so intensified that the proper authorities were forced to pay attention and attend to the matter.

Yesterday afternoon and this morning, the Government carpenter has been working on the floor, but from the appearance of things at the present time, it is more weakened than anything else. New cross-beams will
